

Completing tasks on your instruments is part of your lab routine

You need to have the information and guidance to perform tasks on Roche instruments and software in order to:

- Ensure an efficient workflow
- Keep up productivity
- Quickly solve a problem

Get easy access to interactive user documentation and guidance that assists you in your daily operating routines

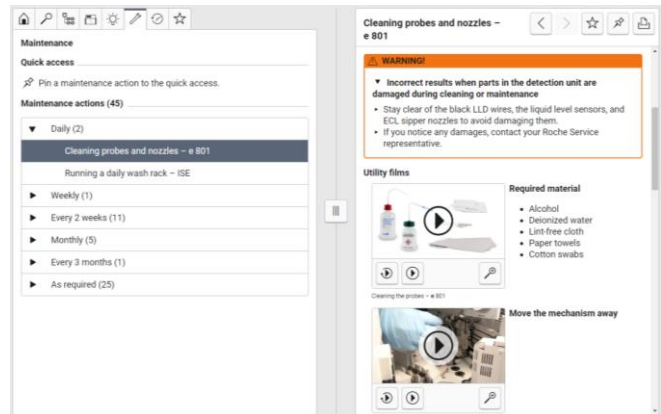

User Assistance allows interactive navigation for routine operation, maintenance, safety information, interactive help and troubleshooting and system configuration

- Browse support content online at your desk or on mobile device
- Videos and troubleshooting content offer additional guidance to perform tasks
- Search features allow you to find what you want, when you need it

Example cobas® pro integrated solutions

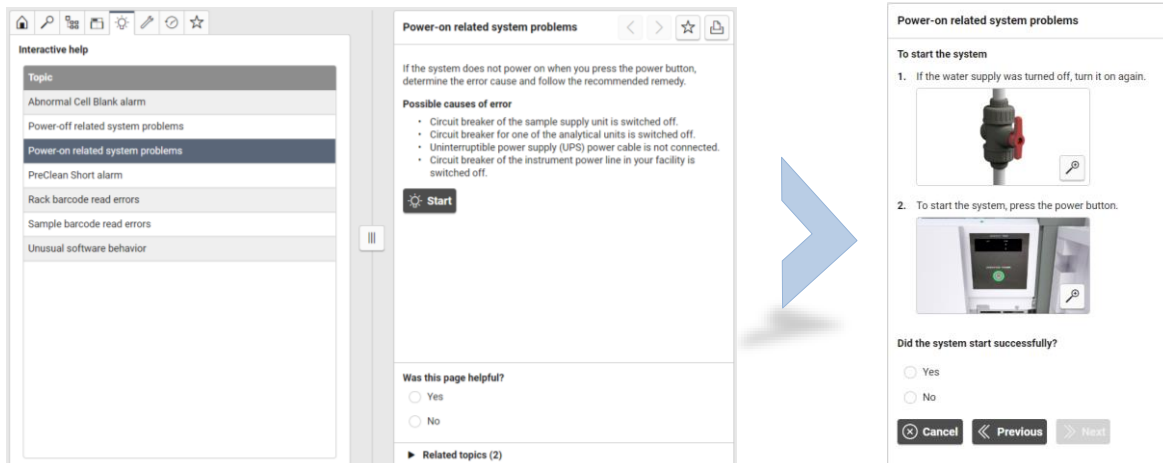

Maintenance tab lists the following features for all routine actions that you have to perform:

- Step-by-step guidance for maintenance procedures with instructional videos
- Personalized interactive user documentation based on the configuration of your system

Interactive help

Guides you through maintenance tasks and common troubleshooting topics

Everything you need, all in one place